PASCO®

PRESS RELEASE

PASCO® announces the launch of the online insurance verification system for California DMV.

November 12, 2009: An operating subsidiary of PASCO®, Validati®, was selected by the California Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) to build an automated web service to verify liability insurance for vehicles registered in the state. PASCO was selected from a competitive bid process to provide these services.

The system was built by PASCO's technology staff in Hudson and deployed at the California DMV in November 2009. PASCO will continue to support the system for three years under a contract with the California DMV.

The new technology is used by the DMV to verify liability insurance requirements for registered vehicles in the state. The DMV is able to submit the Insurance Policy Number and/or Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) of the driver's vehicle and the Validati web services checks the insurance databases of participating companies, to verify the existence of the coverage.
